

Since her husband Paul's promotion to heaven in March 2020, Rev. Julie Kraus serves the NYMN as Intercultural Ministries Director. While ministering in NYC with ethnic pastors and leaders to the growing foreign populations and unreached people groups, Julie also taught English as a Second Language and French in a Title 1, high-needs high school in Harlem. Prior to their NY appointment, Paul and Julie served as AG World Missionaries for 20 years, mostly in French-speaking West Africa where they raised their two children, Jonathan and Emily. Julie loves wearing African clothes, speaking French, and meeting people from all over the world. She is an ordained minister and an AG U.S. Missionary, but her favorite title is Gigi to grandsons Riley William (7) and Jaxon Paul (1 1/2).
